

Interested in Contributing to DE Academy? Become a Subject Matter Expert

When it comes to sharing information with an engaged audience, align yourself and your content with the best. DE Academy offers you that opportunity and more with sound instructional designers, consistent processes, and connection to other recognized subject matter experts (SMEs) around the nation. In return, you will solidify your status as an industry expert and have your material and education placed in a platform used by HR professionals with varying backgrounds and skill levels.
