About US.jobs:

US.jobs is a national job search site administered by DirectEmployers, a nonprofit human resources association, and the National Association of State Workforce Agencies (NASWA). US.jobs posts thousands of jobs from company websites and state job banks. The site lists both public and private sector jobs, offering a wide variety of jobs opportunities.

Search for Jobs on US.jobs:

Users can search for jobs by keyword, location, industry, company, and posting date. While users do not need to create an account to search for jobs, creating an account allows one to post resumes, save job searches, and receive updates on new job listings.

US.jobs Career Resources:

US.jobs also offers a variety of career resources, including information on job fairs, resume assistance, career-related articles, and information on online education. The site also includes resources for specific types of job seekers, including seniors, students, veterans, and the disabled.
